
85 TIR trucks waiting along Kulata checkpoint

Posted by Vascoingles - 2010/02/09 06:37

Kulata-Promachonas checkpoint is still closed for trucks after the protesting Greek farmers have blocked in again at 6.00pm on Sunday, Border Police press office announced. 85 TIR trucks are waiting along Kulata checkpoint. Cars and buses are crossing the border freely.

The other three border checkpoints on Bulgarian-Greek border are operating normally.

Trucks are not allowed using Danube bridge checkpoint. Regional Border Police Directorate-Ruse are ready to organize the traffic when they receive information roads in Romania are cleaned.

The optic cable at Kalotina checkpoint has been cut, which embarrassed the electronic check up of the trucks. It has been removed at 1.30am but a truck line has formed. Up to now about 3 and half truck line has formed on Serbian side of the border.

Source focus-fen.net
